State Health Authorities Decide That Handlers of Infected Ballots Must Be Vaccinated

The epidemic of small pox which has fastened its clutches on the little town of Blue Ball is reaching away out beyond the confines of this peaceful Boggs township village for its victims or for those who must suffer in consequence of the outbreak.

It appears that one of the members of the election board which conducted the election in Blue Ball precinct of Boggs township on Nov. 6th, was suffering from the disease at the time, being taken down the day following the election. In consequence every voter in the precinct who participated in the election came in contact with the disease and the representatives of the State Health Board in charge have secured a list of these voters and will insist on every one being vaccinated.

In this connection an amusing incident occurred at the Court House this morning when Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, the local representative of the State Health Board, appeared at the Sheriff's office with a warrant properly filled out calling for the immediate arrest of Judge Singleton, Bell, Prothonotary Moore, Court Clerk Curley, Roy McCloskey and Robert D. Pearce, the members of the computing board which canvassed the Clearfield county returns and incidentally those from Blue Ball precinct, made up by the small pox infested election board.

The warrant charged violation of the health laws by reason of failure to be vaccinated after having been subjected to infection. The warrant was served on Messrs. Moore and McCloskey in the presence of a bunch of their friends in on the play and it certainly was amusing to watch the "condemned men" when the warrant was read. When explanations were pronounced the sentence, which was that each member of the board must submit at once to vaccination. Moore and McCloskey were equal to the occasion and quickly accompanied the doctor to his office where they bared their arms to the sacrifice and the ordeal was soon over.

Judge Bell is holding court in Greensburg this week and Dr. Stewart telegraphed the welcome (?) news to him this morning. He will have to submit himself to the tender mercies of a Greensburg physician because the orders of the health authorities call for immediate compliance. Bob Pearce had not been rounded up up till 3 o'clock this afternoon, while it is said that Squire Curley proposes barricading himself in the attic at the Court House and resisting the "draft" to the last ditch.

THANKSGIVING DAINTIES ARRIVE

American Headquarters in France, Nov. 13.—Everything is set for Thanksgiving. Turkeys, mince pie and other goodies for the Sammies' dinner on November 29, were received today. The food is sufficient to feed every man in the main training camps area. Food for the Sammies in the "special camps" is due any day.

Lafayette Escadrille With American Forces

Noted Company of American Bird Men Enrolled Under Old Glory

By J. W. Pegier
American Field Headquarters, France, Nov. 13.—The American aviators now fighting in the French army were today formally commissioned officers in the United States army aviation service. The famous Lafayette Escadrille was included. Some of the new American flyers are continuing temporarily under French direction until they are called upon for active service with the American expeditionary force. A great many air men, however, will join the American colors at once. The transfer of this big number of air men affords the United States a nucleus of veterans of the air which will be of incalculable advantage when the American forces get into action.

CLOSE ALTOONA HOTEL BAR

Holidaysburg, Pa., Nov. 12.—The Hotel Altamont, Altoona, owned by James McKay, of Pittsburgh, the second largest hotel in Blair county, lost its license in court today. Evidence showed that the landlord, L. F. McDermott, had violated the law by selling to minors.
The hotel property approximates $200,000 in value and was furnished by McDermott at an outlay of $70,000. The committee on public safety recently informed the court that McDermott had been guilty of disloyalty and had publicly declared, "to hell with the Liberty Bonds."

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Word was received by relatives here this morning of the death of Mrs. Jennie Shaw Clements, widow of the late John F. Clements, which occurred at her home in Indiana, Pa., at 6:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Clements was a daughter of the late Richard S. Shaw, Jr., and was born and raised in Clearfield. She was married about 1881 to John F. Clements and has since resided in Indiana. Mr. Clements died about one year ago.

The deceased was about 58 years of age and is survived by one son John F. Clements and one daughter Mrs. Mary Prothro, also by three brothers, R. Em. Shaw, in Iowa; Benjamin and Frank Shaw and Mrs. William J. Carter, of Clearfield. The funeral will be held from her late home Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m.

MRS. SOPHIA NALE

Mrs. Sophia Nale, wife of Alfred Nale, and mother of Sergeant Harry E. Nale of the United States Marine Corps recruiting station, Mater building, died at 8:40 o'clock Sunday evening of a complication of disease. She was aged 70 years and leaves her husband and these children: Harry E. Jesse Perry, John, Clarence, Frank all of this city; William, Fremont, O. Brown, Clearfield, and Mrs. Minnie Baker, Milroy. The recruiting office had returned from spending the week end with his parents when the messenger arrived, informing him of the death. Funeral services will be held at her late home in Milroy, tomorrow afternoon.—Altoona Tribune.

WILL REPLACE THE MEN

That the women of Clearfield are ready and willing to do their bit by taking the places of men summoned to war was demonstrated in Clearfield this morning when a young lady qualified as messenger at the County National Bank and for the first time assumed the duties heretofore performed by a young man.

This is the first instance of the kind in Clearfield and is only a foretaste of what is to come. The young lady in question is Miss Mary A. Resch of the Third ward.

SCHOOL KIDS ARE PILING UP COIN IN SAVINGS

More Than Twelve Hundred Dollars Total of All The Schools For First Two Months

JUNIOR HIGH LEADS WITH $266

That the system of school savings banks inaugurated in our schools this term is inculcating the saving idea in the minds of the children is shown by the weekly total of deposits from the different schools, as recorded on the books at the Clearfield Trust Company, the depository of the funds. The total savings to date amount to $1216.81.

LENINE AND TROTSKY IN SADDLE; KERENSKY'S ARREST LIKELY

Stockholm, Nov. 13.—Premier Kerensky's troops have entered Petrograd and are "master of a great portion of the city," according to telegraphic official dispatches received here today. This is the first word indicating that fighting was known to be in progress during the last 48 hours in the capital, that has been received here. The dispatches asserted that Kerensky's forces now control Nevsky Prospekt. No details of the casualties were given out but it was believed that the fighting has been sanguinary. The Bolsheviks were reported by the telegraphic agency to be fleeing to the Smolny Institute, the government headquarters, for refuge. The provincial government's loyal forces now control the historical Nevsky Prospekt.

According to official reports the fighting was from barricade to barricade in the street, but with the Bolsheviks steadily weakening as they realized the strength of the loyal forces.

The Institute was reported to have been strongly fortified in preparation to withstand a siege. The Bolsheviks have sailors from the Cronstadt garrison in their forces and they are thoroughly well armed with rifles and machine guns.

London, Nov. 13.—Eight hundred killed and wounded in Petrograd and seven hundred in Moscow is the toll of the latest Russian revolution according to reliable reports reaching here today. This 1500 casualty list will be increased in the fighting which is now in progress at Petrograd. So far reports today indicate both sides are drawing up for an engagement in the capital, both waiting for the other to strike. Scattering engagements were reported.

Latest reports declared that a great wave of anarchy, robbery, murder and rapine is sweeping Petrograd. The Trotsky-Lenine forces lack sufficient men to fight and provincial government lacks sufficient men to enforce authority. Premier Kerensky was said to be at the head of a complete army corps which is holding a position close to the capital.

(By United Press)
London, Nov. 13.—"Complete defeat" of the forces of Premier Kerensky and General Korniloff was announced in a wireless message received from Petrograd today and announced by the British admiralty. The dispatch was dated yesterday. After bitter fighting the Kerensky and Korniloff forces were completely defeated, the announcement said. The messages were signed by "Mourazieff, Col." They characterized Kerensky and Korniloff as counter revolutionists. Arrest of the former Premier was ordered.

PARKER-HOOVER

On Friday evening Nov. 9th, B. 1253 W. W. Hartman united in marriage at the Trinity Methodist parsonage, 1717 Third D. Parker of Nichols street, Clearfield, and Miss Lay Anna Hoover of Cherry Tree. The impressive ceremony of the church was held in the evening and was attended by a large number of guests.

Smallpox Epidemic At Blue Ball Yielding To Health Authorities

No New Cases Develop Since Sunday And Those In Charge Feel That Worst Is Over

The small pox epidemic at Blue Ball appears to be under control as no new cases have developed since Sunday. There are now thirteen victims in various stages of recovery. The disease originated in Altoona. A Point Lookout young woman who was living in Altoona contracted the disease, which was diagnosed chicken pox, and when she became ill came to her home near Philipsburg. While she was convalescing a daughter, Squire Sheridan Smeal visited at the Point Lookout home and she contracted the disease also.

The trouble was thought to be chicken pox but when Squire Smeal was taken down the attending physician began to believe he had something more serious on his hands and called in State Health Board representative Dr. Samuel C. Stewart of Clearfield. It was soon learned that the disease was small pox but by that time the community had been polluted and the general outbreak was the result.

Squire Smeal, in the course of his business had come in contact with a number of people and in every case the disease was traced to this source.

One fellow went to the Squire to get a hunting license. He got it, also the small pox. One of the men examined in the last call of recruits from District No. 1 had Squire Smeal make out his claim for exemption. He got the claim alright and also acquired a case of the small pox.

The thirteen cases now under quarantine are confined to four or five different families. No trains or automobiles are allowed to stop in the village and no person is allowed to go in or out of the town.

Fear of a wide spread of the epidemic is felt because of the fact that one of the men who served on the election board had a fully developed case while he was attending to his duties as election officer. Of course the hundred or more men at the election were subject to infection and all are anxiously awaiting until time will tell whether or not they are in for a siege of the disease. The health authorities have been vaccinating right and left and feel that danger of further spread is about over.

Business Men Asked To Town Meeting Accidental Shooting Is Coroner's Finding

Hope to Discuss Needs of Fire Department at Town Meeting Tonight

Notices were mailed yesterday to the business, professional, men and property owners of Clearfield inviting them to attend a meeting in the borough building at 8 o'clock this evening for the purpose of talking over the matter of the fire fighting equipment our fire fighters stand so badly in need of. This is a vital proposition and everybody invited should make it their business to be present. Don't fail to come.

TAXATION CONFERENCE AT ATLANTA

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 12.—The initial move in a comprehensive plan to initiate and elaborate a so-called "model system" of taxation is expected to be made at the eleventh annual conference of the National Tax Association, which met in this city today and will continue in session until Friday. The conference is attended by many officials and leading specialists of taxation, besides business and professional men of the United States and Canada. Representatives of the Federal government are in attendance, and an important place on the conference program has been assigned to federal tax problems which are expected to provoke interesting discussion.

Plans are under discussion for appropriate observance next year of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Mrs. E. D. N. Southworth, the popular novelist.

Jury Believes Story of Woodland Sunday Shooting

The Coroner's jury which inquired into the circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting of Tom Betts at a colored boarding house at Woodland Sunday morning last, after viewing the remains at Levy's undertaking establishment and examining all the witnesses in the case returned a verdict last evening in which they find that the deceased came to his death by accidental shooting.

Before his death Betts told District Attorney Welch and Dr. Waterworth who attended him that he did the shooting accidentally himself and that no one else was to blame and he wanted no one held for the affair.

In accordance therewith the men held on suspicion will be likely released from custody. They all told the same straightforward story and on the witness stand before the Coroner corroborated the statement made by the dead man.

Betts' funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, the services being conducted by the pastor of the local A. M. E. church.

TEUTONS WINNING IN ITALY

Berlin, via London, Nov. 12.—Occupation of Tiziano and wresting of Mt. Longara from the Italian was reported by the war office statement today. Austrian-German forces have advanced and stormed Leon. Mt. Longara and the other points are on the north and left wing of the Italian army.

Milk Situation Is Becoming Serious

No Deliveries Possible This Morning By Local Dairymen

That the milk famine is becoming more and more acute is evidenced by the fact that there were no deliveries in this city this morning due to the reason that there was none of the lactical fluid in the milk depots.

This morning the Pasteurized Milk company's tanks were as bare as the much talked about cupboard of Mammy Hubbard and while this company promises a short supply for tomorrow's delivery there is no surety that Clearfielders will have milk for their morning coffee on Thursday.

Smaller dealers are thus far supplying the wants of their customers but the shortage is becoming acute especially affecting families where there are babies depending on the milkmen for sustenance.

FEAR SOCIALIST RENAISSANCE

Newark, N. J. Nov. 12.—Final returns from today's special election in Newark are awaited with intense interest, owing largely to the prevailing belief that there is a possibility of the Socialists gaining control of the municipal government. The election is the first to be held under the recently-adopted commission plan of government. The large business interests of the city, which have spent two years and no inconsiderable amount of money to supplant the mayor and common council with the commission plan, now fear that a socialist commission may be swept into office at the election.

The Socialists have gained rapidly in Newark during the past few years in anticipation of today's election they have conducted a vigorous and well-organized campaign. The party has put up five candidates for members of the city commission, with a platform reflecting their peace views and a program of communal purchase, distribution and sale of food stuffs designed to cut the cost of living.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS AND THE WAR

Aiken, S. C. Nov. 13.—"Our Social Problems Under War Conditions" has been chosen as the general theme of the South Carolina State Conference of Charities and Corrections, which met here in annual session today. The proceedings will continue over tomorrow and Thursday.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. John M. Chase on Fourth street, Thursday evening at 7:30.

$10,000 LAND DEAL IS CONSUMMATED BY SALE OF GEORGE WEBER FARM

By the sale of the old George Weber homestead in Bloom township, several DuBois people, of whom Mrs. David Knarr, of South Highland street is one, have been enriched to the extent of $10,000 in cash.

The farm was purchased by the Uniontown Fire Clay Co. for $10,000 cash. The tract is situated in the rich fire clay section 10 miles southeast of DuBois. On April 26th, it was leased by the Uniontown company and during the summer thirty prospecting holes and seven diamond drill holes were sunk upon the tract, with such results that the leasing concern agreed to purchase the tract for the cash sum at the end of the six months lease.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 13.—Several hundred delegates and visitors, representing nearly all the states, are in this city to attend the twenty-fourth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Because of the interest that attaches to Chattanooga, around which were fought some of the greatest battles of the civil war, the convention promises to be one of the most notable in the history of the society. The convention opens tonight with a demonstration of welcome. Business sessions, beginning tomorrow morning, will be held twice daily until the close of the convention Saturday. Mrs. Frank S. Odenheimer of Maryland, will preside. Among other things the convention will consider and act upon definite plans for the war work of the society.

WISOR-SHOVESTUL

Dorsey Wisor and Anna Shovestul, well known young people of Woodland came to Clearfield Saturday and were united in marriage by the Rev. W. W. Hartman at the Trinity Methodist parsonage. The groom is employed at the brick works and the young couple will reside in Woodland.

HOPE TO SAVE VENICE

(By United Press)
Rome, Nov. 13.—If Germany by any chance should find her way to Venice, Italy will make certain there will be no excuse for destroying this beautiful city of international fame. Every time that Germany has destroyed a beautiful city it is because it "is an armed and fortified city." No such excuse can be offered by the treacherous invader of Vienna.

Coads of the University of Chicago have decided to forego their fraternities dances this winter and give the money thus saved to war relief work.

JERSEY JUSTICE NEEDED

The negro settlement at Woodland has been the provider of no less than three serious infractions of the law since the inhabitants took up their residence there. The most unfortunate part of it is that the mischief makers have to a large extent escaped the punishment due them.

We believe a big mistake was made when the negro murderer out there was permitted to plead guilty to second degree murder simply because he shot the wrong man. We are aware that the county officials had a precedent in another county but Clearfield County was not bound by that miscarriage of justice. When Joe Williams pulled the trigger of the shot gun, the load from which killed Clarence Boozer, he had murder in his heart; premeditated and attempted in a cold blooded and cruel manner. He should have suffered the full penalty of the law and it is certain that his conviction before a jury would have been speedy. At that time Clearfield County should have served notice on these people coming to our peace loving community that the least infraction of the law would carry with it the supreme punishment.

A more recent case was that of the white man who slashed a Woodland negro, in turn was hit with a brick bat, brought to the Clearfield hospital, from where he escaped without any trouble.

Now we have the Tom Betts case, the circumstances of which are of the most suspicious nature and warrant the most rigid examination of every man who knows anything about it. It may be possible that Betts shot himself but it is very improbable.

The time has come when we must put down such happenings with a stern hand.

SOME EXPERIENCE

Last Spring we heard the call "back to nature." We longed to grasp the hoe in our hands and make two spuds grow where only one grew before. In addition to that natural feeling which we all experience more or less in the Spring we heeded the advice and pleadings of Messrs. Patton and Houston and felt conscience stricken every time we spent an evening on the front porch or in our regular loafing place instead of in the garden among the weeds. We bought a bushel of seed at $4 per. Being newcomers in the business of spud producing we bought tools and bug dust to the extent of about $2. Hour after hour we toiled in our garden and our neighbors kidded us along with loud praises about the richness of the sod soil and the sturdy look of the plants when they peeked through the yellow earth. With renewed vigor and hopes we applied ourselves to the task. Nary a weed was allowed to grow to its maturity and shed its impish progeny. At last the harvest time arrived. The last bushel we bought from the grower was used. With kingly pomp and feeling quite apodictic we descended on the potato patch with a wee, tiny bucket. (It looked small anyhow.) We dug and dug and dug some more (meanwhile that bucket was growing bigger) until we finally filled it and returned to the house remorseful and dejected. For some reason, probably well known to you, dear reader, it was a long time before we could pick up courage to enter that garden again. We finally did, however, this time with a firm resolution to see the job through. The work progressed finely until a telephone call informed us that our services were needed at that moment in the Liberty Loan campaign and, being patriotic, we left two rows of potatoes uncovered. Jack Frost finished them that night. Once more we felt about potatoocracy as we feel about autoocracy. Since then we have dug potatoes intermittently until only two rows remain in the ground but we have hopes of exposing their jackets to the sun before Old Sol hides himself for the winter. Altogether we will have about seven bushels of potatoes but a million bushels of experience. Are we sorry? Well, should say not. We are eating our own, our very own potatoes, the results of our own labor and those we would otherwise have bought from the grocer, are going to help win this war. Who knows but what the very potatoes we would have eaten are this day helping to sustain some little family of Belgium or French orphans. In that thought we reap our profits. We have done our bit. Next Summer we are going to do it all over again.

Building Credit

THE WORLD'S BUSINESS is done largely on a credit basis.

CREDIT primarily consists in the temporary use of funds belonging to another.

ITS EXTENSION is based upon a confidence in the borrower's ability and reputation for meeting his obligations as they fall due.

A BANK ACCOUNT with a reliable financial institution is a strong credit recommendation.

THIS INSTITUTION invites Commercial Accounts.

SOLDIER'S LETTERS

305 Eng. Train
Camp Lee, Va.

Dear Cousin Pearl:

I am trying to answer your letter this beautiful evening. I am well with the exception of a bad cold.

This is my day off. There are four cooks, two of us were off at noon today and don't go on until noon tomorrow, so that means work one day and have the next day to your self.

I received a card from mother today, also a box containing some chestnuts, hazel nuts, pears, apples and a piece of good old fashioned home made raisin cake. You can only imagine how glad I was to get them.

I haven't heard from Uncle Bill Peters for some time, not since he moved so I do not know his address.

I get the Philadelphia Journal, but it fails to get here every day. Father had it sent to me.

I was at the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday and heard a lieutenant speak. He is a Christian and he surely told the boys how they should live. It did me a lot of good.

I like serving at engineer's headquarters rather well, but I would rather be back at the train with the boys.

I ate some of my own cooking today. I cooked the beans for dinner—only two wash boilers full. No many, is it. Also baked corn cakes for breakfast.

We had chicken and pie for Sunday dinner, and you may bet the grins spread over the boys' faces.

There are some French officers here right from the front and they think we are getting along very good in every way.

Will close for this time,
EDWARD BOCK

Camp Hancock, Ga.,
November 5, 1917

Dear J. D.:

Gee whiz! Your hunter's page makes me homesick and maybe my trigger finger isn't itchy. Congratulations on your progressive thoughtfulness in behalf of the dear old Nature (fakirs?) worshippers, who love to lash the streams and tread the woods. How I would like to hike out to View Point at day break with Comrade Ira Waite and match my cunning with Brer Black eBar or on watch for a wily buck, next month.

But I shall forego such dreams this time in contemplation of our serious task here, the preparation and training of men to crush a mighty menace to civilization and democracy. The study of French, and the presence of a number of French army officers have created considerable interest among our men, who by the way, are working earnestly in training.

Very sorry the retention of our regiment caused distress to our many friends of the 3rd Regiment whom we relieved in April last, but "Right was Might" therefore we rejoice. With every good wish to the Progress and my friends, I remain,

Sincerely,
CAPT. GEORGE L. AYERS
11th Inf, Augusta, Ga.

John Davis, of Linden street, received the following interesting letter from his son Harry, who was with the 9th infantry when it was removed from Gettysburg to winter quarters at Charlotte, N. C.:

Charlotte, N. C.
October, 1917

Dear Dad:

I received your letter before I left Gettysburg but was too busy to answer it. I am well and located in the sunny South now and find it to be a lot warmer than it was in Pennsylvania. We decided to change our underwear and clothing as soon as we landed in North Carolina.

We have a grand camp here and our tents have board floors and sides. I was out in the cotton fields this afternoon helping some combs pick cotton. We have cotton fields all around our camp. And it certainly is a fine sight, when a person never saw cotton growing.

We left Gettysburg Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and landed here at 6 o'clock Thursday morning. The ride was a long one, but we all had sleeping cars and could rest good at night. We came through Maryland and Virginia and was surprised at the country through the State of Virginia. I always thought it was nice level country and thickly populated but found it to be quite different as all we saw was hills and valleys and very few towns.

We had a good safe trip and had no accidents of any kind. The mess halls were in express cars and we had to travel through about 5 or 6 cars to get to our cove. There were three sections made up of 20 coaches each. Making 60 coaches in all.

I thought we would only have the same amount of men here as we had in Gettysburg but found things different when we landed here. There are over 40,000 men here now and still two regiments at Gettysburg, and I don't know how many more may come.

You said in your letter that you expected me home for hunting season, at least on Christmas. Well I may get home for Christmas but not for hunting season.

We received some fine compliments from the Brigadier General when we came in. When we got off the train the band played and the regiment marched from the train with "Old Glory" floating in great style. The commanding officer said it was the first regiment to come here with the real spirit.

Dad you asked me what paper I wanted and you would send it to me. Well, you may send me The Progress for a while. As I don't see Red as often as I used to and won't get to read as much news from home.

Well as news is scarce at present I will close for this time. Hoping to hear from you soon. I remain as ever, with love to all.

LUMBAGO LEFT IN NO TIME

Would Pay Almost Any Price For The Remedy That Cured Him

"Wouldn't be without it if it cost ten times the price," is what Mr. Joseph McClure of 342 Conemaugh street, Johnstown, Pa., says. Read his statement:

"I was afflicted with lumbago and pains in my lower limbs which caused the most intense suffering. I tried many remedies without success until I was advised to try 20TH CENTURY LINIMENT.

"What this wonderful remedy has done for me is simply wonderful, my lumbago and pain entirely disappearing and I haven't had an attack since. I would not be without this remedy in my house if it cost ten times the price. It is right up with the times."

Get this modern remedy at your drug store for 50 cents and $1.

HOG FARM AT FINLEYVILLE TAKEN BY FEDERAL OFFICERS

Number of Local People Interested in Propaganda Alleged to Have Been a Swindle

DuBois and Clearfield county people who were victimized by the alleged Finleyville hog farm swindle will read the following Pittsburgh dispatch with interest:

Armed and prepared for battle, deputy United States Marshal Frank Beatty and several Pittsburgh lawyers yesterday seized the ranch of the National Hog company in Finleyville, Washington county, and immediately began to give first aid to 714 porkers, most of them on the verge of starvation, it is said. Incidentally, they seized the books and correspondence of the corporation and the United States government may enter the pork business here.

Benjamin Page, president of the South Side Trust company was appointed receiver of the concern by Federal Judge Orr last Monday, superseding T. M. Gealey, who had been appointed receiver by Judge James R. MacFarlane in Common Pleas court last October 29.

Tuesday Mr. Page went to inspect the ranch and declares that he was driven from the premises by the farmer, B. MacChain, and four assistants, all armed with shotguns. They threatened his life, Mr. Page said, and he appealed to the court for help yesterday morning.

First Receiver Gealey entered claim that the hogs were not the property of the company, but were owned by many individuals throughout the country who held bills of sale. But both disputants agreed that the hogs were starving, were without proper shelter and that many were on the verge of death. He asked that he be allowed to sell the hogs and liquidate the company's affairs.

DUBOIS DIVORCE CASE

Pentz & Pentz, DuBois attorneys, filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office this morning in which Mrs. Clara Sheafnocker asks for a divorce from her husband, John Sheafnocker. While it is generally understood that all men are more or less of a Mormon tendency, Sheafnocker was a little too strong on that line and on account of his conduct this divorce is sought. The Sheafnockers were married Sept. 25, 1914, and separated in May, 1917.

The Snappy Weather That We've Had And The Snappier Weather to Come Bespeaks For-handedness in Buying Furs

And to appreciate the warmth and snugness of these muffs and neckpieces that we're showing, you've got to see them.

Not real expensive but with that tone of richness that should move them out of the store quickly.

The new barrel muffs are particularly handsome and they are in such furs as lynx and coney of a dark lustrous brown and a solid black.

Won't you come in and see them?

ALL CANDIDATES MUST FILE AN EXPENSE ACCOUNT

No candidates whose names appeared on the ballots at the November election is excused from the filing of a statement of his expenses. If more than $50 was spent in the campaign he must itemize the account, if less than $50, a sworn statement to that effect is sufficient. These statements must be on file in the office of the prothonotary and clerk of courts within 30 days after election. Whether the candidate was successful or defeated makes no difference in the eyes of the law—all must file statements. It was learned at the court house today that at previous issues many candidates seemed to be rather uninformed regarding this important requirement of the law and more than a few failed to file expense statements. There is no expense connected with the procedure.

The Autobiography of GOV. PENNYPACKER

*Will be published for the first time,
as a serial in the Philadelphia*

Evening ILLUSTRATED Ledger

More than an autobiography—it contains the stirring personal memoirs of a fighting Pennsylvanian. It is the intimate history of all his encounters with other prominent men. Friends and foes alike are described with a frankness that reveals the late Governor's remarkable insight into the hidden motives of his associates.

The Autobiography will be published in full. Shortly after Governor Pennypacker's death, a number of prominent Pennsylvanians, including Governor Brumbaugh, Hampton L. Carson, George Wharton Pepper, Mayer Sulzberger and others, addressed a letter to his family, requesting that no part be omitted out of a desire to avoid controversy or to protect the sensitive feelings of those bruised by Governor Pennypacker's blunt frankness.

This request has been granted. Beyond the verification of certain names, dates and minor incidents, there has been no editing. Whatever or whoever may be maimed, the Autobiography goes forth unchanged.

The wide range of interesting experiences covered by Governor Pennypacker's narrative is suggested by the following excerpt from his "Foreword":

"I HAVE been brought into relations with the Presidents, from Lincoln to Roosevelt; with the Generals Grant, Sherman, Hancock, Sickles, Howard and Sheridan, and have corresponded with Darwin, Le Comte de Paris, DeHoop, Scheffer, Bayard Taylor and Lloyd Mifflin. I have made addresses at Stony Point and at Gettysburg. I have presided over the Law Academy, the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, the University of Pennsylvania, a court, and the Commonwealth. I have walked one hundred and seventy-five miles on a stretch and have ridden down Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House at the head of ten thousand men. I have carried on my back at one time twenty pounds of putty and at another a musket. I have made pills in Kensington, thrown a load of wood into a Chestnut street cellar, kept the books of an oil company, mowed weeds in a meadow, gathered a great library, written eighty books and pamphlets, tried men for murder and sent sixty-six criminals to be hanged. Therefore is this story begun."

Publication will commence in the issue of the Evening Ledger for Saturday, November 17, and will continue daily for about four months.

In order to be sure of obtaining all installments, mail the coupon below.

LARGE SUM FOR RED CROSS

New York, Nov. 12.—The entire receipts of the thirty-third annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association, which opened in a blaze of glory in Madison Square Garden this afternoon, will be donated by the association to the American Red Cross. It is estimated that the organization will benefit to the extent of about $100,000 as a result of the generosity of the association.

The prize list is the largest ever offered by the association. That for the special prizes are for competitions exclusively for women is significant of the part which women of society will take in this year's exhibition. They have not only formed a committee representing the Red Cross but they are going to ride and drive in the ring and help to make the show all the fashionable hotels have made special preparations for Horse Show week promises to be as brilliant and successful as any of its predecessors. A time-honored institution, it always attracts the various social sets and marks the opening of the season. The show each year brings much entertainment in its train—informal luncheons, teas and dinner parties—and while these festivities may be somewhat curtailed on account of the war, all the fashionable hotels have made special preparations for Horse Show week very much as usual.

MEETING OF INVESTMENT BANKERS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 12.—Representative American bankers and financiers to the number of several hundred assembled in this city today for the annual convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America. In view of the fact that the members of the association have been called upon to take a very prominent part in the marketing of the two Liberty Loans, the effect of this Government financing upon the bond business in general will form an important topic of discussion. One of the prominent speakers before the convention will be Basil P. Blackett, member of the British finance commission now in this country. The woman taxi driver has made her appearance in Mobile.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It cures the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

FORD EXTORTION CASE

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 11.—Jacob Yellin was arraigned in court today for a preliminary hearing on a charge of attempting to use the United States mails in a scheme, it is alleged, to abduct or kill Henry Ford II, grandson of the millionaire motor car manufacturer. Several weeks ago Mr. Ford received a letter demanding $10,000 and threatening bodily harm to his grandson unless the demand was complied with. The letter was signed "Sicilian Anarchists' Association."

It demanded that the money be sent through the general delivery and addressed to "Gus Adams." On the advice of the postal authorities Mr. Ford deposited a decoy package in the postoffice. The package was called for by a boy and delivered to him to Yellin, who is alleged to have sent the boy to the postoffice and waited for him a short distance away.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Nearly 25,000 women in New York city earn a livelihood as bookkeepers, cashiers and accountants.

Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, has organized the women of the Treasury department for war work.

A concerted movement is soon to be launched to have all medical colleges in the United States open their doors to women students.

The Woman's Board of Missions of the Congregational church is to hold an elaborate celebration of its golden jubilee in Boston this week.

The National W. C. T. U. expects a record-breaking attendance at its annual convention to be held in Washington next month.

Many co-eds of the University of Wisconsin are reducing their college expenses by living in co-operative houses and doing their own housework.

More than 3,500,000 American women are now voluntary members of the food administration and have pledged themselves to follow its directions as to food conservation.

Mrs. John S. McDonald, of New Albany, Ind., was presented with a $50 Liberty bond by twenty business men of her city as a reward for having sold nearly $9,000 worth of the bonds.

Elaborate entertainment has been prepared by the women of Chattanooga for the annual national convention to be held in their city this week by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

To Mrs. William Penn Snyder of Pittsburgh belongs the honor of having sold more Liberty bonds than any other woman in the United States. Mrs. Snyder sold $3,289,850 worth of the bonds, $500,000 worth being in small sales.

During the past few months Mrs. Joseph Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, has delivered more than one hundred public addresses in behalf of the various movements looking to the successful prosecution of the war.

Women now run the village of California, Ky., since nearly all of the men have joined the army. Mrs. Wheeler is postmistress while her husband is fighting.

Mrs. Stanley Jones is performing her husband's duties as rural mail carrier, and Mrs. E. I. Herndon has taken her son's place as railroad station agent.

LOST HORSE ON MOUNTAINS

A couple of local young men are convinced now that sometimes it is bad luck to go to a hunting camp on Sunday. Last Saturday night these enthusiastic hunters hired a horse and buggy from Fred Leaty, the hygienist. The start for the camp, fifteen miles away, was made at 12 o'clock sharp and when within three miles of their stopping place, about two hours before daylight, the left front wheel went down into a rut and snap went an axle.

The buggy's contents were packed to the camp in soldier style and on the second trip the horse was brought in. The fellow in charge of the horse put it in the barn and after tying it to the manger placed its feed before it.

By this time it was fully daylight and the visitors proceeded to get breakfast for themselves and the camp members already there. After the breakfast dishes were washed they went out to look for their horse and were shocked to find the stable empty and the "animal" gone.

A search located the blanket the horse had been wearing some three miles from camp, but since that time nothing has been seen or heard of her.

The missing animal is a brown mare and was trucked to the "salt log" at the Big Prairie on the M. & George road, thirteen miles from town, and is thought to be in the mountains on the headwaters of Trout run. A searching party left here today to search for the missing animal.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK

Washington, Nov. 12.—Eager to uphold the record of his illustrious ancestors, Israel Putnam 5th, a direct descendant of Israel Putnam of Revolutionary War fame, is now an active member of the United States Marines.

Young Putnam says: "I chose the Marines because they see much active service. My family has become identified with American history by taking part in all wars since the Revolution. I hope to do my full share in the present war, but am willing to give my services as a private and earn promotion as I merit it."

Young Putnam is rapidly completing his training at a Marine training camp, and is awaiting orders for service in France.

Keep Smallpox Out

The Board of Health respectfully urges that Clearfield people take every precaution against the possible introduction of small pox into this community. There are many cases of this loathsome disease at our neighboring village of Blue Ball and in consequence grave danger of infection. Be prudent and careful and if you have not been vaccinated successfully within the past five years you had better have that matter attended to.

While on this subject of public health, we would also ask our people to take advantage of the present fine weather and clean up about their premises. Clean the garden of all decaying vegetables. They are disease producers. Do not wait until spring. DO IT NOW.

By Order of Board,
C. G. WILSON, Secy.

NEW MILLPORT

Daniel Connors and wife of Altoona, have again returned to their home after a short visit to Mrs. Connors' home to see her father Jacob Matlack who has been ill for a few days but is improving rapidly.

Frank Anderson and Harry Cross have moved to Boardman where they expect to work during the coming winter.

H. J. Sloppy suffered a slight stroke at his home Saturday morning which left him blind, this being the third stroke he has suffered during the past year.

About twelve of the young people of this place attended church at Fruit Hill Sunday evening where evangelistic services are in progress, conducted by Rev. Troutman.

The new tippie at the Good mines is being rapidly erected. It is expected they will soon be dumping coal over it.

There will be a large festival and bazaar held in the K. G. E. hall on Thanksgiving evening, November 30. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

A large wild cat was seen on the hill just above town last Friday. It is thought that this is what carried off Rev. Biddle's chickens, instead of some hungry boys who were at first suspected.

Ralph Henderson, one of our soldier boys wrote back from Camp Lee the other day and said the army is the best place he ever struck and if some of the other boys could only see it they wouldn't wait a minute to join. Hurrah for Old Glory!

step forward and assist the U. S. Army in her great drive against Germany. Aside from the fact it is the duty of every man to stand by Old Glory. The army now offers exceptional opportunities to men skilled in practically every known trade and vocation to continue at their trade while serving as a soldier of the United States. The opportunity is also offered to young men with experience in some trade to enlist as handymen and finish their trade while in the army. The pay for such men ranges from $30.00 to $106.00 per month, with all expenses paid, including board, clothing, lodging, medical attention and transportation. The Aviation Section of the Signal Corps and the Engineers, are organizing a great many new regiments and therefore tradesmen enlisting in these branches of service in particular will have unusual opportunities for promotion to the grades of Corporal and Sergeant and also be in line for commissions as all new officers will be chosen from the men in the ranks. State Health Authorities Decide That Handlers of Infected Ballots Must Be Vaccinated

The epidemic of small pox which has fastened its clutches on the little town of Blue Ball is reaching away out beyond the confines of this peaceful Boggs township village for its victims or for those who must suffer in consequence of the outbreak.

It appears that one of the members of the election board which conducted the election in Blue Ball precinct of Boggs township on Nov. 6th, was suffering from the disease at the time, being taken down the day following the election. In consequence every voter in the precinct who participated in the election came in contact with the disease and the representatives of the State Health Board in charge have secured a list of these voters and will insist on every one being vaccinated.

In this connection an amusing incident occurred at the Court House this morning when Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, the local representative of the State Health Board, appeared at the Sheriff's office with a warrant properly filled out calling for the immediate arrest of Judge Singleton, Bell, Prothonotary Moore, Court Clerk Curley, Roy McCloskey and Robert D. Pearce, the members of the computing board which canvassed the Clearfield county returns and incidentally those from Blue Ball precinct, made up by the small pox infested election board.

The warrant charged violation of the health laws by reason of failure to be vaccinated after having been subjected to infection. The warrant was served on Messrs. Moore and McCloskey in the presence of a bunch of their friends in on the play and it certainly was amusing to watch the "condemned men" when the warrant was read. When explanations were pronounced the sentence, which was that each member of the board must submit at once to vaccination. Moore and McCloskey were equal to the occasion and quickly accompanied the doctor to his office where they bared their arms to the sacrifice and the ordeal was soon over.

Judge Bell is holding court in Greensburg this week and Dr. Stewart telegraphed the welcome (?) news to him this morning. He will have to submit himself to the tender mercies of a Greensburg physician because the orders of the health authorities call for immediate compliance. Bob Pearce had not been rounded up up till 3 o'clock this afternoon, while it is said that Squire Curley proposes barricading himself in the attic at the Court House and resisting the "draft" to the last ditch.

THANKSGIVING DAINTIES ARRIVE

American Headquarters in France, Nov. 13.—Everything is set for Thanksgiving. Turkeys, mince pie and other goodies for the Sammies' dinner on November 29, were received today. The food is sufficient to feed every man in the main training camps area. Food for the Sammies in the "special camps" is due any day.

Lafayette Escadrille With American Forces

Noted Company of American Bird Men Enrolled Under Old Glory

By J. W. Pegler
American Field Headquarters, France, Nov. 13.—The American aviators now fighting in the French army were today formally commissioned officers in the United States army aviation service. The famous Lafayette Escadrille was included. Some of the new American flyers are continuing temporarily under French direction until they are called upon for active service with the American expeditionary force. A great many air men, however, will join the American colors at once. The transfer of this big number of air men affords the United States a nucleus of veterans of the air which will be of incalculable advantage when the American forces get into action.

CLOSE ALTOONA HOTEL BAR

Holidaysburg, Pa., Nov. 12.—The Hotel Altamont, Altoona, owned by James McKay, of Pittsburgh, the second largest hotel in Blair county, lost its license in court today. Evidence showed that the landlord, L. F. McDermott, had violated the law by selling to minors.
The hotel property approximates $200,000 in value and was furnished by McDermott at an outlay of $70,000. The committee on public safety recently informed the court that McDermott had been guilty of disloyalty and had publicly declared, "to hell with the Liberty Bonds."

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Word was received by relatives here this morning of the death of Mrs. Jennie Shaw Clements, widow of the late John F. Clements, which occurred at her home in Indiana, Pa., at 6:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Clements was a daughter of the late Richard S. Shaw, Jr., and was born and raised in Clearfield. She was married about 1881 to John F. Clements and has since resided in Indiana. Mr. Clements died about one year ago.

The deceased was about 58 years of age and is survived by one son John F. Clements and one daughter Mrs. Mary Prothero, also by three brothers, R. Em. Shaw, in Iowa; Benjamin and Frank Shaw and Mrs. William J. Carter, of Clearfield. The funeral will be held from her late home Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m.

MRS. SOPHIA NALE

Mrs. Sophia Nale, wife of Alfred Nale, and mother of Sergeant Harry E. Nale of the United States Marine Corps recruiting station, Mater building, died at 8:40 o'clock Sunday evening of a complication of disease. She was aged 70 years and leaves her husband and these children: Harry E. Jesse Perry, John, Clarence, Frank all of this city; William, Fremont, O. Brown, Clearfield, and Mrs. Minnie Baker, Milroy. The recruiting office had returned from spending the week end with his parents when the message arrived, informing him of the death. Funeral services will be held at her late home in Milroy, tomorrow afternoon.—Altoona Tribune.

WILL REPLACE THE MEN

That the women of Clearfield are ready and willing to do their bit by taking the places of men summoned to war was demonstrated in Clearfield this morning when a young lady qualified as messenger at the County National Bank and for the first time assumed the duties heretofore performed by a young man.

This is the first instance of the kind in Clearfield and is only a foretaste of what is to come. The young lady in question is Miss Mary A. Resch of the Third ward.

Fierce Fighting Flaming Furiously Features First Fling For Future Favor, Finding Fissure In Flaccid Forces Supporting Russia's Big Three K's.

LENINE AND TROTSKY IN SADDLE; KERENSKY'S ARREST LIKELY

Stockholm, Nov. 13.—Premier Kerensky's troops have entered Petrograd and are "master of a great portion of the city," according to telegraphic official dispatches received here today. This is the first word indicating that fighting was known to be in progress during the last 48 hours in the capital, that has been received here. The dispatches asserted that Kerensky's forces now control Nevsky Prospekt. No details of the casualties were given out but it was believed that the fighting has been sanguinary. The Bolsheviks were reported by the telegraphic agency to be fleeing to the Smolny Institute, the government headquarters, for refuge. The provincial government's loyal forces now control the historical Nevsky Prospekt.

According to official reports the fighting was from barricade to barricade in the street, but with the Bolsheviks steadily weakening as they realized the strength of the loyal forces.

The Institute was reported to have been strongly fortified in preparation to withstand a siege. The Bolsheviks have sailors from the Cronstadt garrison in their forces and they are thoroughly well armed with rifles and machine guns.

London, Nov. 13.—Eight hundred killed and wounded in Petrograd and seven hundred in Moscow is the toll of the latest Russian revolution according to reliable reports reaching here today. This 1500 casualty list will be increased in the fighting which is now in progress at Petrograd. So far reports today indicate both sides are drawing up for an engagement in the capital, both waiting for the other to strike. Scattering engagements were reported.

Latest reports declared that a great wave of anarchy, robbery, murder and rapine is sweeping Petrograd. The Trotsky-Lenine forces lack sufficient men to fight and provincial government lacks sufficient men to enforce authority. Premier Kerensky was said to be at the head of a complete army corps which is holding a position close to the capital.

(By United Press)
London, Nov. 13.—"Complete defeat" of the forces of Premier Kerensky and General Korniloff was announced in a wireless message received from Petrograd today and announced by the British admiralty. The dispatch was dated yesterday. After bitter fighting the Kerensky and Korniloff forces were completely defeated, the announcement said. The messages were signed by "Mourazieff, Col." They characterized Kerensky and Korniloff as counter revolutionists. Arrest of the former Premier was ordered.

Smallpox Epidemic At Blue Ball Yielding To Health Authorities

No New Cases Develop Since Sunday And Those In Charge Feel That Worst Is Over

The small pox epidemic at Blue Ball appears to be under control as no new cases have developed since Sunday. There are now thirteen victims in various stages of recovery. The disease originated in Altoona. A Point Lookout young woman who was living in Altoona contracted the disease, which was diagnosed chicken pox, and when she became ill came to her home near Philipsburg. While she was convalescing a daughter, Squire Sheridan Smeal visited at the Point Lookout home and she contracted the disease also.

The trouble was thought to be chicken pox but when Squire Smeal was taken down the attending physician began to believe he had something more serious on his hands and called in State Health Board representative Dr. Samuel C. Stewart of Clearfield. It was soon learned that the disease was small pox but by that time the community had been polluted and the general outbreak was the result.

Squire Smeal, in the course of his business had come in contact with a number of people and in every case the disease was traced to this source.

One fellow went to the Squire to get a hunting license. He got it, also the small pox. One of the men examined in the last call of recruits from District No. 1 had Squire Smeal make out his claim for exemption. He got the claim alright and also acquired a case of the small pox.

The thirteen cases now under quarantine are confined to four or five different families. No trains or automobiles are allowed to stop in the village and no person is allowed to go in or out of the town.

Fear of a wide spread of the epidemic is felt because of the fact that one of the men who served on the election board had a fully developed case while he was attending to his duties as election officer. Of course the hundred or more men at the election were subject to infection and all are anxiously awaiting until time will tell whether or not they are in for a siege of the disease. The health authorities have been vaccinating right and left and feel that danger of further spread is about over.

Business Men Asked To Town Meeting Accidental Shooting Is Coroner's Finding

Hope to Discuss Needs of Fire Department at Town Meeting Tonight

Jury Believes Story of Woodland Sunday Shooting

Notices were mailed yesterday to the business, professional, men and property owners of Clearfield inviting them to attend a meeting in the borough building at 8 o'clock this evening for the purpose of talking over the matter of the fire fighting equipment our fire fighters stand so badly in need of. This is a vital proposition and everybody invited should make it their business to be present. Don't fail to come.

TAXATION CONFERENCE AT ATLANTA

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 12.—The initial move in a comprehensive plan to initiate and elaborate a so-called "model system" of taxation is expected to be made at the eleventh annual conference of the National Tax Association, which met in this city today and will continue in session until Friday. The conference is attended by many officials and leading specialists of taxation, besides business and professional men of the United States and Canada. Representatives of the Federal government are in attendance, and an important place on the conference program has been assigned to federal tax problems which are expected to provoke interesting discussion.

Plans are under discussion for appropriate observance next year of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Mrs. E. D. N. Southworth, the popular novelist.

The Coroner's jury which inquired into the circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting of Tom Betts at a colored boarding house at Woodland Sunday morning last, after viewing the remains at Levy's undertaking establishment and examining all the witnesses in the case returned a verdict last evening in which they find that the deceased came to his death by accidental shooting.

Before his death Betts told District Attorney Welch and Dr. Waterworth who attended him that he did the shooting accidentally himself and that no one else was to blame and he wanted no one held for the affair.

In accordance therewith the men held on suspicion will be likely released from custody. They all told the same straightforward story and on the witness stand before the Coroner corroborated the statement made by the dead man.

Betts' funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, the services being conducted by the pastor of the local A. M. E. church.

TEUTONS WINNING IN ITALY

Berlin, via London, Nov. 12.—Occupation of Tiziano and wresting of Mt. Longara from the Italian was reported by the war office statement today. Austrian-German forces have advanced and stormed Leon. Mt. Longara and the other points are on the north and left wing of the Italian army.

Milk Situation Is Becoming Serious

No Deliveries Possible This Morning By Local Dairymen

That the milk famine is becoming more and more acute is evidenced by the fact that there were no deliveries in this city this morning due to the reason that there was none of the lactical fluid in the milk depots.

This morning the Pasteurized Milk company's tanks were as bare as the much talked about cupboard of Mammy Hubbard and while this company promises a short supply for tomorrow's delivery there is no surety that Clearfielders will have milk for their morning coffee on Thursday.

Smaller dealers are thus far supplying the wants of their customers but the shortage is becoming acute especially affecting families where there are babies depending on the milkmen for sustenance.

FEAR SOCIALIST RENAISSANCE

Newark, N. J. Nov. 12.—Final returns from today's special election in Newark are awaited with intense interest, owing largely to the prevailing belief that there is a possibility of the Socialists gaining control of the municipal government. The election is the first to be held under the recently-adopted commission plan of government. The large business interests of the city, which have spent two years and no inconsiderable amount of money to supplant the mayor and common council with the commission plan, now fear that a socialist commission may be swept into office at the election.

The Socialists have gained rapidly in Newark during the past few years in anticipation of today's election they have conducted a vigorous and well-organized campaign. The party has put up five candidates for members of the city commission, with a platform reflecting their peace views and a program of communal purchase, distribution and sale of food stuffs designed to cut the cost of living.

$10,000 LAND DEAL IS CONSUMMATED BY SALE OF GEORGE WEBER FARM

By the sale of the old George Weber homestead in Bloom township, several DuBois people, of whom Mrs. David Knarr, of South Highland street is one, have been enriched to the extent of $10,000 in cash.

The farm was purchased by the Uniontown Fire Clay Co. for $10,000 cash. The tract is situated in the rich fire clay section 10 miles southeast of DuBois. On April 26th, it was leased by the Uniontown company and during the summer thirty prospecting holes and seven diamond drill holes were sunk upon the tract, with such results that the leasing concern agreed to purchase the tract for the cash sum at the end of the six months lease.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 13.—Several hundred delegates and visitors, representing nearly all the states, are in this city to attend the twenty-fourth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Because of the interest that attaches to Chattanooga, around which were fought some of the greatest battles of the civil war, the convention promises to be one of the most notable in the history of the society. The convention opens tonight with a demonstration of welcome. Business sessions, beginning tomorrow morning, will be held twice daily until the close of the convention Saturday. Mrs. Frank S. Odenheimer of Maryland, will preside. Among other things the convention will consider and act upon definite plans for the war work of the society.

WISOR-SHOVESTUL

Dorsey Wisor and Anna Shovestul, well known young people of Woodland came to Clearfield Saturday and were united in marriage by the Rev. W. W. Hartman at the Trinity Methodist parsonage. The groom is employed at the brick works and the young couple will reside in Woodland.

HOPE TO SAVE VENICE

(By United Press)
Rome, Nov. 13.—If Germany by any chance should find her way to Venice, Italy will make certain there will be no excuse for destroying this beautiful city of international fame. Every time that Germany has destroyed a beautiful city it is because it "is an armed and fortified city." No such excuse can be offered by the treacherous invader of Vienna.

Coads of the University of Chicago have decided to forego their fraternities dances this winter and give the money thus saved to war relief work.

JERSEY JUSTICE NEEDED

The negro settlement at Woodland has been the provider of no less than three serious infractions of the law since the inhabitants took up their residence there. The most unfortunate part of it is that the mischief makers have to a large extent escaped the punishment due them.

We believe a big mistake was made when the negro murderer out there was permitted to plead guilty to second degree murder simply because he shot the wrong man. We are aware that the county officials had a precedent in another county but Clearfield County was not bound by that miscarriage of justice. When Joe Williams pulled the trigger of the shot gun, the load from which killed Clarence Boozer, he had murder in his heart; premeditated and attempted in a cold blooded and cruel manner. He should have suffered the full penalty of the law and it is certain that his conviction before a jury would have been speedy. At that time Clearfield County should have served notice on these people coming to our peace loving community that the least infraction of the law would carry with it the supreme punishment.

A more recent case was that of the white man who slashed a Woodland negro, in turn was hit with a brick bat, brought to the Clearfield hospital, from where he escaped without any trouble.

Now we have the Tom Betts case, the circumstances of which are of the most suspicious nature and warrant the most rigid examination of every man who knows anything about it. It may be possible that Betts shot himself but it is very improbable.

The time has come when we must put down such happenings with a stern hand.

SOME EXPERIENCE

Last Spring we heard the call "back to nature." We longed to grasp the hoe in our hands and make two spuds grow where only one grew before. In addition to that natural feeling which we all experience more or less in the Spring we heeded the advice and pleadings of Messrs. Patton and Houston and felt conscience stricken every time we spent an evening on the front porch or in our regular loafing place instead of in the garden among the weeds. We bought a bushel of seed at $4 per. Being newcomers in the business of spud producing we bought tools and bug dust to the extent of about $2. Hour after hour we toiled in our garden and our neighbors kidded us along with loud praises about the richness of the soil and the sturdy look of the plants when they peeked through the yellow earth. With renewed vigor and hopes we applied ourselves to the task. Nary a weed was allowed to grow to its maturity and shed its impish progeny. At last the harvest time arrived. The last bushel we bought from the grower was used. With kingly pomp and feeling quite apodictic we descended on the potato patch with a wee, tiny bucket. (It looked small anyhow.) We dug and dug and dug some more (meanwhile that bucket was growing bigger) until we finally filled it and returned to the house remorseful and dejected. For some reason, probably well known to you, dear reader, it was a long time before we could pick up courage to enter that garden again. We finally did, however, this time with a firm resolution to see the job through. The work progressed finely until a telephone call informed us that our services were needed at that moment in the Liberty Loan campaign and, being patriotic, we left two rows of potatoes uncovered. Jack Frost finished them that night. Once more we felt about potatoocracy as we feel about autoocracy. Since then we have dug potatoes intermittently until only two rows remain in the ground but we have hopes of exposing their jackets to the sun before Old Sol hides himself for the winter. Altogether we will have about seven bushels of potatoes but a million bushels of experience. Are we sorry? Well, should say not. We are eating our own, our very own potatoes, the results of our own labor and those we would otherwise have bought from the grocer, are going to help win this war. Who knows but what the very potatoes we would have eaten are this day helping to sustain some little family of Belgium or French orphans. In that thought we reap our profits. We have done our bit. Next Summer we are going to do it all over again.

Building Credit

THE WORLD'S BUSINESS is done largely on a credit basis.

CREDIT primarily consists in the temporary use of funds belonging to another.

ITS EXTENSION is based upon a confidence in the borrower's ability and reputation for meeting his obligations as they fall due.

A BANK ACCOUNT with a reliable financial institution is a strong credit recommendation.

THIS INSTITUTION invites Commercial Accounts.

SOLDIER'S LETTERS

305 Eng. Train
Camp Lee, Va.

Dear Cousin Pearl:

I am trying to answer your letter this beautiful evening. I am well with the exception of a bad cold.

This is my day off. There are four cooks, two of us were off at noon today and don't go on until noon tomorrow, so that means work one day and have the next day to your self.

I received a card from mother today, also a box containing some chestnuts, hazel nuts, pears, apples and a piece of good old fashioned home made raisin cake. You can only imagine how glad I was to get them.

I haven't heard from Uncle Bill Peters for some time, not since he moved so I do not know his address.

I get the Philadelphia Journal, but it fails to get here every day. Father had it sent to me.

I was at the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday and heard a lieutenant speak. He is a Christian and he surely told the boys how they should live. It did me a lot of good.

I like serving at engineer's headquarters rather well, but I would rather be back at the train with the boys.

I ate some of my own cooking today. I cooked the beans for dinner—only two wash boilers full. No many, is it. Also baked corn cakes for breakfast.

We had chicken and pie for Sunday dinner, and you may bet the grins spread over the boys' faces.

There are some French officers here right from the front and they think we are getting along very good in every way.

Will close for this time,
EDWARD BOCK

Camp Hancock, Ga.,
November 5, 1917

Dear J. D.:

Gee whiz! Your hunter's page makes me homesick and maybe my trigger finger isn't itchy. Congratulations on your progressive thoughtfulness in behalf of the dear old Nature (fakirs?) worshippers, who love to lash the streams and tread the woods. How I would like to hike out to View Point at day break with Comrade Ira Waite and match my cunning with Brer Black eBar or on watch for a wily buck, next month.

But I shall forego such dreams this time in contemplation of our serious task here, the preparation and training of men to crush a mighty menace to civilization and democracy. The study of French, and the presence of a number of French army officers have created considerable interest among our men, who by the way, are working earnestly in training.

Very sorry the retention of our regiment caused distress to our many friends of the 3rd Regiment whom we relieved in April last, but "Right was Might" therefore we rejoice. With every good wish to the Progress and my friends, I remain,

Sincerely,
CAPT. GEORGE L. AYERS
11th Inf, Augusta, Ga.

John Davis, of Linden street, received the following interesting letter from his son Harry, who was with the 9th infantry when it was removed from Gettysburg to winter quarters at Charlotte, N. C.:

Charlotte, N. C.
October, 1917

Dear Dad:

I received your letter before I left Gettysburg but was too busy to answer it. I am well and located in the sunny South now and find it to be a lot warmer than it was in Pennsylvania. We decided to change our underwear and clothing as soon as we landed in North Carolina.

We have a grand camp here and our tents have board floors and sides. I was out in the cotton fields this afternoon helping some combs pick cotton. We have cotton fields all around our camp. And it certainly is a fine sight, when a person never saw cotton growing.

We left Gettysburg Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and landed here at 6 o'clock Thursday morning. The ride was a long one, but we all had sleeping cars and could rest good at night. We came through Maryland and Virginia and was surprised at the country through the State of Virginia. I always thought it was nice level country and thickly populated but found it to be quite different as all we saw was hills and valleys and very few towns.

We had a good safe trip and had no accidents of any kind. The mess halls were in express cars and we had to travel through about 5 or 6 cars to get to our chow. There were three sections made up of 20 coaches each. Making 60 coaches in all.

I thought we would only have the same amount of men here as we had in Gettysburg but found things different when we landed here. There are over 40,000 men here now and still two regiments at Gettysburg, and I don't know how many more may come.

You said in your letter that you expected me home for hunting season, at least on Christmas. Well I may get home for Christmas but not for hunting season.

We received some fine compliments from the Brigadier General when we came in. When we got off the train the band played and the regiment marched from the train with "Old Glory" floating in great style. The commanding officer said it was the first regiment to come here with the real spirit.

Dad you asked me what paper I wanted and you would send it to me. Well, you may send me The Progress for a while. As I don't see Red as often as I used to and won't get to read as much news from home.

Well as news is scarce at present I will close for this time. Hoping to hear from you soon. I remain as ever, with love to all.

LUMBAGO LEFT IN NO TIME

Would Pay Almost Any Price For The Remedy That Cured Him

"Wouldn't be without it if it cost ten times the price," is what Mr. Joseph McClure of 342 Conemaugh street, Johnstown, Pa., says. Read his statement:

"I was afflicted with lumbago and pains in my lower limbs which caused the most intense suffering. I tried many remedies without success until I was advised to try 20TH CENTURY LINIMENT.

"What this wonderful remedy has done for me is simply wonderful, my lumbago and pain entirely disappearing and I haven't had an attack since. I would not be without this remedy in my house if it cost ten times the price. It is right up with the times."

Get this modern remedy at your drug store for 50 cents and $1.

HOG FARM AT FINLEYVILLE TAKEN BY FEDERAL OFFICERS

Number of Local People Interested in Propaganda Alleged to Have Been a Swindle

DuBois and Clearfield county people who were victimized by the alleged Finleyville hog farm swindle will read the following Pittsburgh dispatch with interest:

Armed and prepared for battle, deputy United States Marshal Frank Beatty and several Pittsburgh lawyers yesterday seized the ranch of the National Hog company in Finleyville, Washington county, and immediately began to give first aid to 714 porkers, most of them on the verge of starvation, it is said. Incidentally, they seized the books and correspondence of the corporation and the United States government may enter the pork business here.

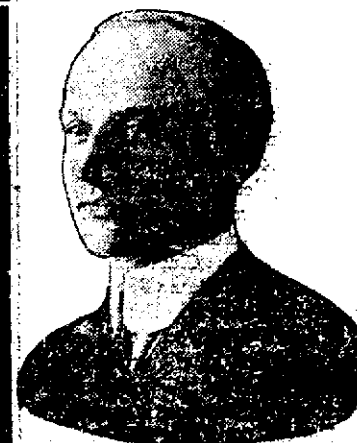

Benjamin Page, president of the South Side Trust company was appointed receiver of the concern by Federal Judge Orr last Monday, superseding T. M. Gealey, who had been appointed receiver by Judge James R. MacFarlane in Common Pleas court last October 29.

Tuesday Mr. Page went to inspect the ranch and declares that he was driven from the premises by the farmer, B. MacChain, and four assistants, all armed with shotguns. They threatened his life, Mr. Page said, and he appealed to the court for help yesterday morning.

First Receiver Gealey entered claim that the hogs were not the property of the company, but were owned by many individuals throughout the country who held bills of sale. But both disputants agreed that the hogs were starving, were without proper shelter and that many were on the verge of death. He asked that he be allowed to sell the hogs and liquidate the company's affairs.

DUBOIS DIVORCE CASE

Pentz & Pentz, DuBois attorneys, filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office this morning in which Mrs. Clara Sheafnocker asks for a divorce from her husband, John Sheafnocker. While it is generally understood that all men are more or less of a Mormon tendency, Sheafnocker was a little too strong on that line and on account of his conduct this divorce is sought. The Sheafnockers were married Sept. 25, 1914, and separated in May, 1917.

ALL CANDIDATES MUST FILE AN EXPENSE ACCOUNT

No candidates whose names appeared on the ballots at the November election is excused from the filing of a statement of his expenses. If more than $50 was spent in the campaign he must itemize the account, if less than $50, a sworn statement to that effect is sufficient. These statements must be on file in the office of the prothonotary and clerk of courts within 30 days after election. Whether the candidate was successful or defeated makes no difference in the eyes of the law—all must file statements. It was learned at the court house today that at previous issues many candidates seemed to be rather uninformed regarding this important requirement of the law and more than a few failed to file expense statements. There is no expense connected with the procedure.

The Autobiography of GOV. PENNYPACKER

*Will be published for the first time,
as a serial in the Philadelphia*

Evening ILLUSTRATED Ledger

More than an autobiography—it contains the stirring personal memoirs of a fighting Pennsylvanian. It is the intimate history of all his encounters with other prominent men. Friends and foes alike are described with a frankness that reveals the late Governor's remarkable insight into the hidden motives of his associates.

The Autobiography will be published in full. Shortly after Governor Pennypacker's death, a number of prominent Pennsylvanians, including Governor Brumbaugh, Hampton L. Carson, George Wharton Pepper, Mayer Sulzberger and others, addressed a letter to his family, requesting that no part be omitted out of a desire to avoid controversy or to protect the sensitive feelings of those bruised by Governor Pennypacker's blunt frankness.

This request has been granted. Beyond the verification of certain names, dates and minor incidents, there has been no editing. Whatever or whoever may be maimed, the Autobiography goes forth unchanged.

The wide range of interesting experiences covered by Governor Pennypacker's narrative is suggested by the following excerpt from his "Foreword":

"I HAVE been brought into relations with the Presidents, from Lincoln to Roosevelt; with the Generals Grant, Sherman, Hancock, Sickles, Howard and Sheridan, and have corresponded with Darwin, Le Comte de Paris, DeHoop, Scheffer, Bayard Taylor and Lloyd Mifflin. I have made addresses at Stony Point and at Gettysburg. I have presided over the Law Academy, the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, the University of Pennsylvania, a court, and the Commonwealth. I have walked one hundred and seventy-five miles on a stretch and have ridden down Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House at the head of ten thousand men. I have carried on my back at one time twenty pounds of putty and at another a musket. I have made pills in Kensington, thrown a load of wood into a Chestnut street cellar, kept the books of an oil company, mowed weeds in a meadow, gathered a great library, written eighty books and pamphlets, tried men for murder and sent sixty-six criminals to be hanged. Therefore is this story begun."

Publication will commence in the issue of the Evening Ledger for Saturday, November 17, and will continue daily for about four months.

In order to be sure of obtaining all installments, mail the coupon below.

LARGE SUM FOR RED CROSS

New York, Nov. 12.—The entire receipts of the thirty-third annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association, which opened in a blaze of glory in Madison Square Garden this afternoon, will be donated by the association to the American Red Cross. It is estimated that the organization will benefit to the extent of about $100,000 as a result of the generosity of the association.

The prize list is the largest ever offered by the association. That for the special prizes are for competitions exclusively for women is significant of the part which women of society will take in this year's exhibition. They have not only formed a committee representing the Red Cross, but they are going to ride and drive in the ring and help to make the show what curtailed on account of the war, all the fashionable hotels have made special preparations for Horse Show week promises to be as brilliant and successful as any of its predecessors. A time-honored institution, it always attracts the various social sets and marks the opening of the season. The show each year brings much entertainment in its train—informal luncheons, teas and dinner parties—and while these festivities may be somewhat curtailed on account of the war, all the fashionable hotels have made special preparations for Horse Show week very much as usual.

MEETING OF INVESTMENT BANKERS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 12.—Representative American bankers and financiers to the number of several hundred assembled in this city today for the annual convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America. In view of the fact that the members of the association have been called upon to take a very prominent part in the marketing of the two Liberty Loans, the effect of this Government financing upon the bond business in general will form an important topic of discussion. One of the prominent speakers before the convention will be Basil P. Blackett, member of the British finance commission now in this country. The woman taxi driver has made her appearance in Mobile.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It cures the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

FORD EXTORTION CASE

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 11.—Jacob Yellin was arraigned in court today for a preliminary hearing on a charge of attempting to use the United States mails in a scheme, it is alleged, to abduct or kill Henry Ford II, grandson of the millionaire motor car manufacturer. Several weeks ago Mr. Ford received a letter demanding $10,000 and threatening bodily harm to his grandson unless the demand was complied with. The letter was signed "Sicilian Anarchists' Association."

It demanded that the money be sent through the general delivery and addressed to "Gus Adams." On the advice of the postal authorities Mr. Ford deposited a decoy package in the postoffice. The package was called for by a boy and delivered to him to Yellin, who is alleged to have sent the boy to the postoffice and waited for him a short distance away.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Nearly 25,000 women in New York city earn a livelihood as bookkeepers, cashiers and accountants.

Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, has organized the women of the Treasury department for war work.

A concerted movement is soon to be launched to have all medical colleges in the United States open their doors to women students.

The Woman's Board of Missions of the Congregational church is to hold an elaborate celebration of its golden jubilee in Boston this week.

The National W. C. T. U. expects a record-breaking attendance at its annual convention to be held in Washington next month.

Many co-eds of the University of Wisconsin are reducing their college expenses by living in co-operative houses and doing their own housework.

More than 3,500,000 American women are now voluntary members of the food administration and have pledged themselves to follow its directions as to food conservation.

Mrs. John S. McDonald, of New Albany, Ind., was presented with a $50 Liberty bond by twenty business men of her city as a reward for having sold nearly $9,000 worth of the bonds.

Elaborate entertainment has been prepared by the women of Chattanooga for the annual national convention to be held in their city this week by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

To Mrs. William Penn Snyder of Pittsburgh belongs the honor of having sold more Liberty bonds than any other woman in the United States. Mrs. Snyder sold $3,289,850 worth of the bonds, $500,000 worth being in small sales.

During the past few months Mrs. Joseph Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, has delivered more than one hundred public addresses in behalf of the various movements looking to the successful prosecution of the war.

Women now run the village of California, Ky., since nearly all of the men have joined the army. Mrs. Wheeler is postmistress while her husband is fighting.

Mrs. Stanley Jones is performing her husband's duties as rural mail carrier, and Mrs. E. I. Herndon has taken her son's place as railroad station agent.

LOST HORSE ON MOUNTAINS

A couple of local young men are convinced now that sometimes it is bad luck to go to a hunting camp on Sunday. Last Saturday night these enthusiastic hunters hired a horse and buggy from Fred Leaty, the hygienist. The start for the camp, fifteen miles away, was made at 12 o'clock sharp and when within three miles of their stopping place, about two hours before daylight, the left front wheel went down into a rut and snap went an axle.

The buggy's contents were packed to the camp in soldier style and on the second trip the horse was brought in. The fellow in charge of the horse put it in the barn and after tying it to the manger placed its feed before it.

By this time it was fully daylight and the visitors proceeded to get breakfast for themselves and the camp members already there. After the breakfast dishes were washed they went out to look for their horse and were shocked to find the stable empty and the "animal" gone.

A search located the blanket the horse had been wearing some three miles from camp, but since that time nothing has been seen or heard of her.

The missing animal is a brown mare and was trucked to the "salt log" at the Big Prairie on the M. & George road, thirteen miles from town, and is thought to be in the mountains on the headwaters of Trout run.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Eager to uphold the record of his illustrious ancestors, Israel Putnam 5th, a direct descendant of Israel Putnam of Revolutionary War fame, is now an active member of the United States Marines.

Young Putnam says: "I chose the Marines because they see much active service. My family has become identified with American history by taking part in all wars since the Revolution. I hope to do my full share in the present war, but am willing to give my services as a private and earn promotion as I merit it."

Young Putnam is rapidly completing his training at a Marine training camp, and is awaiting orders for service in France.

Keep Smallpox Out

The Board of Health respectfully urges that Clearfield people take every precaution against the possible introduction of small pox into this community. There are many cases of this loathsome disease at our neighboring village of Blue Ball and in consequence grave danger of infection. Be prudent and careful and if you have not been vaccinated successfully within the past five years you had better have that matter attended to.

While on this subject of public health, we would also ask our people to take advantage of the present fine weather and clean up about their premises. Clean the garden of all decaying vegetables. They are disease producers. Do not wait until spring. DO IT NOW.

By Order of Board,
C. G. WILSON, Secy.

There will be a large festival and bazaar held in the K. G. E. hall on Thanksgiving evening, November 30. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

A large wild cat was seen on the hill just above town last Friday. It is thought that this is what carried off Rev. Biddle's chickens, instead of some hungry boys who were at first suspected.

Ralph Henderson, one of our soldier boys wrote back from Camp Lee the other day and said the army is the best place he ever struck and if some of the other boys could only see it they wouldn't wait a minute to join. Hurrah for Old Glory!

NEED FOR ENLISTMENTS NOW

U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Scranton, Pa. Nov. 10, 1917.

America is now calling upon her skilled tradesmen and handymen to step forward and assist the U. S. Army in her great drive against Germany. Aside from the fact it is the duty of every man to stand by Old Glory. The army now offers exceptional opportunities to men skilled in practically every known trade and vocation to continue at their trade while serving as a soldier of the United States. The opportunity is also offered to young men with experience in some trade to enlist as handymen and finish their trade while in the army. The pay for such men ranges from $30.00 to $106.00 per month, with all expenses paid, including board, clothing, lodging, medical attention and transportation.

The Aviation Section of the Signal Corps and the Engineers, are organizing a great many new regiments and therefore tradesmen enlisting in these branches of service in particular will have unusual opportunities for promotion to the grades of Corporal and Sergeant and also be in line for commissions as all new officers will be chosen from the men in the ranks.

U. S. Army Recruiting Stations are located in Scranton, Wilkes Barre, Williamsport, South Bethlehem, Erie, Sunbury, Sayre, DuBois, Easton, Warren and Phillipsburg, Pa.

Our Fixed Idea

In Selling Shoes to Men and Boys

Is to sell shoes that are so good and fit so well, that when your thoughts turn to shoes, it will be to the memories of comfortable, stylish shoes—and it will induce you to always come here when in need of footwear.

The shoes that will meet with your approval, and which we specially recommend are the

FLORSHEIM, WALK OVER AND BEACON SHOES

—and they're here in the newest types of narrow toe, flat sole and heel models. They satisfy your "style taste"—without infringing on your foot comfort needs—and the man who wants "extreme" comfort should see the round-toed, broad, easy-fitting, low heeled shoe that we have here—it's men's "comfort insurance!"

Shoes For Young Men Styles That Has Real Pep

'Tis expected nowadays that young men give evidence by their dress of that snap, that "pep" which is the rightful inheritance of youth. Our Fall Styles are absolutely the last word in real "class." The new shades of dark Cordo Caif, Cherry Red and Dull Calf, just the thing for the young man who cares, at
